Who am I?

Discovery of the week

I guess you've worked out by now how much I love my job. It's true... being a beauty ed is a pretty sweet thing. My friends are constantly making excuses to come over and raid my 'product boxes'.

Now I know it's only Monday and this is a big call but I think I've made the discovery of the week. I was rifling through said product boxes yesterday trying to find a black kohl when I stumbled across a little trio of products by LaGlam - a NSW-based brand of mineral makeup.

All thoughts of deliciously rimmed eyes flew straight out of my head when I saw the gorgeous LaGlam Thai Temptress Mineral Eyeshadow ($30).

LaGlam was established by makeup artist Amanda La Monica and the range includes mineral foundation, eyehsadow, blush, lipstick, lipgloss, lip liner, eyeliner, highlighter, setting powder, mascara and a brush set... phew!
